WORK EXPERIENCE

Prime coatings limited

Senior level | Web developer
Nairobi , Kenya
2022-01-01 | 2024-03-01

During my tenure at Prime Coatings Limited, I've thrived as a Senior Web Developer for over 2 years. Daily, I lead in the development and upkeep of web applications, ensuring peak performance. Collaborating seamlessly, I devise effective solutions, troubleshoot challenges, and consistently produce top-tier code. Noteworthy accomplishments include elevating user experiences and optimizing web processes for enhanced efficiency and productivity.

EDUCATION

KCA University

Bachelors | Bachelors of Science Information Technology

Moringa School

Certificate | Software engineering

During my time at Moringa School, I embarked on a transformative journey into the realm of software engineering. The comprehensive curriculum exposed me to a myriad of essential skills that form the backbone of modern web development.

Git, the cornerstone of collaborative coding, became second nature as I mastered version control, enabling seamless collaboration with fellow developers. HTML and CSS provided the foundational building blocks for crafting visually appealing and structurally sound web pages. JavaScript, a dynamic and versatile language, empowered me to bring interactivity and responsiveness to my applications.

Delving into advanced front-end development, I honed my skills in React.js, a powerful library for building user interfaces, and extended my capabilities to the server-side with React Node. Equipping myself with SQL language, I delved into database management, specifically with SQLite, gaining proficiency in designing and querying databases.
